The grand campaign of Gen. Donay against the frontier has new terminated, and without producing any result for the Imperialist cause except the thorough arousing of the people, is reason of the unlimited robberies that have been committed under the name of fines, and the herbarous excentions that have taken place under the orders of the bandit Dupin. Gen. Inagres commenced his retreat in haste, taking the road most difficult for his trains, on learning of the approach of my forces. He has lost severely by descritions and in the various encounters with part of my force.
There is great demoralization in his ranks, while on my side,
I am happy to say, the confidence and enthusiasm increase daily. I have already received some arms that I had contracted for, and shall soon receive a further supply, so that I shall soon be in a condition to make an effective movement.
I send to you herewith some very important French correspondence which I have intercepted, showing the difficult simation they are in. The news from the interior is excellent;
everywhere the people are rising.

Evangelical Anti-Denominational Convention

A meeeting of the ministers and representatives of the Evangelical Churches in Brooklyn was held last evening in the Reformed Dutch Church, corner of Pierrepost-st, and Monree-place, with a view to "consider and adopt some plan of organized effort" toward bringing under the preaching of the Gospel the very large proportion of the inhabitants of Brooklyn, whom, from whatever cause, it now fails to reach.

The meeting was opened by the Pastor, the Rev. Dr. Edls, with prayer, &c., and, on motion, the Rev. Dr. Hodge of the Baptist Church was called to the chair, and the Rev. Messrs. Kimball and Smithers were appointed Secretaries of the Convention. The call under which the meeting was convened was read,

The call under which the meeting was convened was read, as follows:

"Wareas, In our population, consisting of 300,000 individuals, it has been ascertained that only about 50,000 come regularly under the preaching of the Gospel;

"It is proposed to call a Convention of ministers and representatives of the campelleal branches of the Church in the city to consider and adopt some pian of organized effort to meet this great want;

"Therefore, we, the subscribers, approving the object and willing to cobperate in this mode of practical Christian Union, do unite in calling such a Convention, to be held in the Reformed Dutch Church on the Hights, corner of Pierrepont at and Monroe-place, on Thursday evening, June 28, at 8 of cicek.

"Each minister approving will appoint, or request his church to appoint, four lay delegates to attend said Concention with him."

The President then called upon the Rev. George Thrall of the Church of the Messiah to state more fully the objects of the Convention.

Mr. Burke spoke at some length. He dissented from the statistics which had been given, beliaving that there were not more than 50,000 or 75,000 persons in Brooklyn who did not attend church. He also claimed that the efficacy of the Mission churches at present in operation had been greatly underrated.

After short addresses by the Rev. Messrs. Fitch and Eels, the Rev. Mr. Lowry (Baptist) spoke in opposition to the movement. He doubted whether the erection of a big tabernacle, in which none but big preachers should preach, would secure their object.

Considerable warm discussion followed, resulting inthe refusal of the Convention, by a vote of 90 to 61, to adopt the resolution, and, on motion, the Convention adjourned, subject to the call of the committee.

Fresh-Water Basin for Iron-Clads.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, June 28, 1866. The Board constituted by the order of the Secretary of the Navy, to examine a site at or near Portland, Me., for a fresh-water basin for iron-clad vessels of the navy, and to ascertain the advantages and loss of said site, have made a

They visited the place and made all the requisite examinations, and say after a length of time occupied in the construction and large expenditure of money, the result would be sim-ply the possession of a fresh water basin, to be supplied with water from a company. It would be frozen over with ice 18 inches and more thick at least five months in the year. It would also be within reach from the sea of rifle projectiles in use at the present day, and removed from a navy-yard where established facilities exist for repairing, equipping, and fitting out vessels when required in an emergency.

The Board, for reasons given, considers it proper to express the hope that some other place may be found not far from a navy-yard where abundance of fresh water can be commanded without resorting to such expensive structures, and the position of which will not only be within speedy reach of our great goal fields, numerous iron mills, shell works, and various naval supplies required, but also so far removed from sea as to secure it from the possibility of being reached by hostile shot.

While my letter of the 16th was awaiting publication, a reply was made by Gen. Reger to the application of Gen. Whittelsey for release from arrest, Gen. R. having returned to Raleigh after an absence of a few days in South Carolina. He states: "Respectfully returned to Hieret Brig.-Gen. E. Whittelsey, who was placed in arrest by authority superior to that of the Commanding General, and cannot be releved by his order. The act of Congress approved July 17, 1862, is operative without any order from the Commanding General; but as Gen. Whittelsey is relieved from duty, he is not authorized to absent himself from the post where he was on duty when placed in arrest without orders from these or superior head-quarters." THE MANN COURT-MARTIAL-HOW NORTHERN PHI-LANTHROPY IS APPRECIATED-CONDUCT OF THE SOUTHERN PROPER.

The proceedings of the Bureau Court Martial were this morning brief and characteristic. After the usual pretiminaries of opening court, Mr. O. D. Holmes, the second witness for the prosecution, failed to respond to his name. A long discussion upon the motion of the Judge-Advocate to almit as evidence an appendix to Gens, Fulletton and Steadman's report took place, but the paper was finely withdrawn, after which the Court adjourned until to-morrow.
I clip the following from a Raleigh paper:

"The steamship C. W. Lord left Wilmington on Saturday afternoon, freighted with a number of pseudo-philanthropic school marms, who have been teaching the young Africans, in that vicinity, 'the idea how to shoot.'

Now, the truth is that these young ladies were the only city lest Spring, and the Society which seen them out has spent $15,000 as philanthropic aid in that city.

forfeit, should Santa Anna decode to pay that, he was to pay him $2,000; this, it is claimed, made Canado his (Taylor's) agent.

Mr. Cutler further stated that the ship went to St. Thomas, where Phillips, the agent, refused to receive it because Matuera & Burges had bought another vessel (the Georgia) which he claimed was charged to Santa Anna at double the price paid by them. He contended that Montgomery was the nost honest man of the whole party. That he refused to take part in the Georgia transactien, and was, when charged with mailing these representations, actually in Washington on Santa Anna's business. He claimed that all these men were, in fact, acting for Santa Anna, armed by him with full powers for carrying out his plans; to secure 1,000 men, arms, ammunition, &c. for them to procure the indorsement of a loan from the United States, &c., &c.; of course not a formal power of attorney which might have compromised themselves, but nevertheses with full powers to act for him, expressed or implied, in the cause of overthrowing Maximilian. A revolution was propoposed, and for it an army was to be raised. How? On the credit of Santa Anna and by Agents enthorized by him, and now he comes in and repudiates them

But Mr. Montgomery was not in the city till three days after the sale of this vessel. He, therefore, made no representations false or otherwise in regard to the sale. This bargain with Canado made him Taylor's agent, and his representations his principal cannot affect him in this suit. But it is fully shown that these men were really the agents of Santa Anna.

Mr. Jerome Buck, in reply, after a cology on Gen. Santa Anna, are due affidavits of Santa Anna, Mauero, Buiz and others, positively and directly denying any authority from Santa Anna, creiter of them, to parchase the vessel or 3 anything for him. He read the contract to show that Mostgomery was described in it as agent of Santa Anna, as distanced that the defendants were mere adventurers, and that while they had had some communication relative to once rejected by Santa Anna and his authorized representative.

Mr. Cutler replied at some length, after which the Court took the papers, reserving the decision.

The following is Santa Anna's affidavit:
Antonio L. de Santa Anna, being duly sworn, says: I am not acquainted with the parties in this action; I met Canado on April 24 last at St. Thomas; never authorized Montgomery, Canado, or anybody else, to purchase a vessel for me; in the brief correspondence I had with Montgomery and Canado. I never authorized them to do anything for me, but, to the contrary, I wrote that I never invited their services; Montgomery and Canado made offers to me of all sorts of impossible helps, and so foolish and eraggereated that they were the dreams of madmen, and I declined them all, and peremutorily.

THE ALLEGED MURDER IN SCHUYLKILL COUNTY, PA Some days since an engineer named Dennis Eagan, alias John F. Wallace, in the employ of the Boston Dry Dock Com pany, at Red Hook Point, was arrested on the charge of assault, ing his wife, Mary Eagan; and she, while laboring under a state of excitement, accused her husband of having, in Sepstate of excitement, accused her husband of having, in Sep-tember, 1864, killed a man named Robert Gardiner, near a place called Carberry, Schuylkill Co., Pa., by cutting him in the head with an ax. Upon this statement, Capt. Rhodes of the Forty-third Police Precinct, ordered his detention until some information could be obtained in relation to the charge made by the woman, and immediately wrote to the Sheriff of Schuylkill County. Vesterday afternoon Mayor Booth received a telegraphic dispatch from the Sheriff, in which Capt. Rhodes was requested to detain the accused until he could make proper inquiries. Eagan had been committed to jail on the complaint of his wife for assault and battery, and before his term expires it is probable that something definite will be known in regard to the alleged murder.

THE EFFECTS OF THE HEAT.-Coroner Lynch teld an inquest yesterday upon the body of James Dougherty, held an inquest yesterday upon the body of James Dougners, who died the evening previous at the residence of his family. There was no hair, it having been rubbed off by the action of the water. The face was much disqured, and the body in the first stages of decomposition, from which it is inferred that it has been in the water for at least its week.

CONEY ISLAND BEACH ON SUNDAY-THE DANGERS OE INDUIGING IN THREE CAMP MONTE.—A case of considerable interest to a certain class of the sporting fraternity came up before Justice Cornwell on Wednesday, which attracted a large number of gamblers, pickpockets, &c. The charge was highway robbery. The complainant was Dr. William James of No. 691 Broadway, New York, and the defendants, Edward Valentine, Samuel Hoggett and Harry Wilson. From the evidence of the complainant, it appeared that himself wife and child, together with his brother in law, George W. Scott, proceeded to Conoy Island in the cars on Sanday last, the 24th inst. While walking along the beach, witness saw Velentine playing three-card monte. He passed and saw another game of the same kind, where he bet $30 and lost. He then returned to Valentine, where he made a bet of $75, and won. The money was in Hoggett's hands, and he handed it to witness. He then started to go away, when Valentine grabbed him by the hand. Hoggett also took hold of the same hand. Four or five others took hold, and Haggett asked Valentine to bite witness with his testb. Valentine obeyed instructions, and severely bit one of James's fingers. The money won was in the hand seized. A number of persons crowded around, and a nocket-book containing about $500 in greenbacks was taken from an inside pocket in James's vest. He then broke away and ran some distance, when the same parties again caught nim. He had previously put the stake money ($150) in the left pocket of his pantalouss. He broke away the second time, but was seized a third time, when Valentine took the stake money out of his pocket. The crowd then scattered, and some went away in wagous. He saw a man wearing yellow up before Justice Cornwell on Wednesday, which attracted a

The evidence of Mr. James was corroborated in some of the main particulars by George W. Scott, James H. Panshaw, George Falier and James Smith.

The first witness for the defense was James Maginness, whose testimony was to the effect that Mr. James Maginness, whose testimony was to the effect that Mr. James was robbed by pickpockets, who asnally congregate about such places, but appeared oblivious to any transaction which might criminate the defendants. A number of other witnesses were called, and their testimony went to show that James jost the bet and grabbed the money out of Hoggett's hand, when he was attacked by Valentine who cried out to him to give his money hack. This caused a crowd of some 20 persons about James. One witness saw the pocket-book taken from James, but did not know who the man was. Others swore that there was a general scramble on the table for the stakes, when it was discovered that Valentine had lost.

After the conclusion of the evidence the case was submitted to the Justice without argument. A decision will be rendered in a few days. District Attorney Troy for the people, and Mr. Howe for the defense.

BIRTH IN A GRAND-ST. CAR .- On Tuesday even ing, a lady residing at South Third-st., E.
